*The following contractor names are provided as a convenience to our sellers and our buyers.

The quality of work performed by these contractors will vary from job to job and may depend on the size of the job, complexity of the job, timeframes for completion, the weather, subcontractors selected, the availability of materials, change orders requested, and unforeseen circumstances. Before you select your contractor(s), please do your own analysis of the individuals and companies you may wish to hire. Be sure that they will meet your own personal standards. You may want to see samples of their work, visit current job sites, talk to their past clients and check the status of recent complaints with the Better Business Bureau. We do our best to keep a current list but please make sure contractors are currently licensed and insured before using them.
